This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Inflexible rules for style in all works can not be given, but for the general work of the Government Printing Office the rules herein contained will be observed.

All persons connected with the typographical divisions of this office are requested to preserve this book and study carefully the rules and suggestions offered for their guidance.

Department editors are requested when preparing work for this office to make their copy conform as nearly as possible to the style here presented, and to specify fully any general deviation therefrom that may be desired.

JULY 1, 1903.

Names of types (nonpareil, brevier, long primer, etc.) are used in this MANUAL, although the point system is coming into general use in the office and is apparently destined to entirely supersede the old system.

SUGGESTIONS TO AUTHORS.

Authors are advised to so prepare their copy that it can be clearly understood by the printer. Nothing should be left for conjecture. Measurable perfection can be secured by first transcribing copy on the typewriter, and before releasing it for publication giving it as careful revision as is afterwards given proof sheets. In the end this will not only save time, but Department printing funds frequently exhausted in making author's corrections in proof will be available for other work. Typewritten copy (when a good quality of paper is used) is always preferable to manuscript, but all copy should be plain to produce good work.

The following points are offered as suggestions which, if heeded, will enable this office to achieve the best results:

1. All paragraphs should be clearly marked on copy, thus avoiding vexatious misprints due to overrunning.

2. Photographs, drawings, cuts, etc., for illustrations should accompany manuscript. Each should bear the name of the publication to which it belongs, together with the figure or plate number, and necessary titles or legends for the same should be inserted at the proper place in copy. A complete list of plates and figures should always accompany the manuscript.

3. When a work is made up of several parts, or papers, a carefully prepared schedule of the desired arrangement should be forwarded with the manuscript.

4. Proper names and technical terms should be plainly and carefully written, using CAPITAL letters if necessary, and each should be verified before the copy is sent to the printer.

5. Details of capitalization and punctuation may be safely left to the printers and proof readers. It is part of their profession; they make a study of the subject, and will generally meet the author's taste.

6. Write only on one side of the paper. When printed matter covering more than one side of a sheet is used as copy, a DUPLICATE should be furnished; otherwise much trouble is caused in cutting.

7. When, as an afterthought, new matter making more than a line is inserted, it should be written on a separate sheet and the place for its insertion clearly indicated.

8. Galley proofs will be furnished when desired. It is important that all corrections be made on the first proofs; later ones should be used only for purposes of verification.

9. Corrections in stereotype or electrotype plates usually do more harm than good. They weaken the plate and render new errors probable through damaged letters.

10. Authors and compilers are requested to direct those handling their manuscript to transmit the same to the Printing Office in flat form—never to roll the manuscript if it can be avoided.

MANUAL OF STYLE.

When necessary to depart from the MANUAL OF STYLE the copy preparers will give instructions to the compositors and readers.

Instructions will be given as to orthography, compounding, capitalization, and punctuation in scientific and technical work.

Revisers will promptly notify the foreman of the proof room when variations from the MANUAL are being marked by Department readers.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

[See also FOLLOW—FOL. LIT., p. 33; GEOLOGICAL AGES, ETC., p. 13.]

Follow Webster's International Dictionary in spelling and divisions. Observe, however, the following forms:

afterwards	canyon	Filipino	shellac
aftward	downward	forward	stayed (p. p.)
aluminum	draft, drafting, etc.	farther (distance)	toward asbestos	embed	further (not distance)	upward
backward	employee	sloyd	wharves

The following authorities, in the order given, will govern the spelling of geographic names:

Decisions of the United States Board on Geographic Names.
United States Postal Guide.
International Postal Guide (Dictionnaire des Bureaux de Poste).
Lippincott's Gazetteer of the World.
Rand, McNally & Co.'s Atlas.

INDIAN NAMES.

[See also SPELLING OF INDIAN NAMES, p. 64.]

Omit spaces and hyphens in Indian geographic names; in other than geographic names, use spaces in place of hyphens.

In court work and "fol." matter, follow copy as to spelling and the use of the hyphen or space.

COMPOUND WORDS.

[See also COMPOUNDS, p. 26; PERCENTAGE, p. 27.]

Follow Webster's International Dictionary generally in the use or omission of the hyphen or space between words. (See also VOCABULARY OF DOUBLE WORDS, p. 43.)

Compound adjectives generally take the hyphen: A 12-inch main, 75-horsepower engine, asked-for opinion, light-green color, etc.; but omit the hyphen in common school, high school, and public school when used adjectively. Care must always be taken not to confuse the qualifying word with the subject word; for instance, a shoemaker can be a German shoemaker, and, if he makes wooden shoes, a wooden-shoe maker.

Mr. So-and-so.

Fractions, when spelled, will be compounded: One twenty-first, one-fifth, eighty-one one-hundredths, one one-hundredth, the one-hundredth part, one one hundred and twentieth. (See also FRACTIONS, p. 27.)

The following rule governing work of the United States Geological Survey will be used generally for similar terms in other work: "Use the hyphen in specific rock names—i. e., the names of definite rock types; but when the first word has an adjective sense, and the meaning would not be changed if an adjective were used (e. g., clay slate=argillaceous slate), the words should not be joined. Examples: mica-schist, hornblende-gneiss, tuff-breccia; (but) andesite breccia, greenstone conglomerate, sand rock."

USE OF CAPITALS.

[See also FOLLOW—FOL. LIT., p. 33.]

DEPARTMENTS, BUREAUS, ETC.

Capitalize the titles of departments, bureaus, etc., and the following terms relating to them, only when referring definitely to those of the United States Government.

The examples under each of the following heads should be given close attention.

ACADEMY

Military Academy, Naval Academy, the Military and Naval academies, the academy. National Academy of Sciences, the academy.

or the name of an organization of the Army or Navy, as First Regiment U. S. Volunteers, Second U. S. Cavalry, etc.—

or where preceding the name of a Government vessel, as U. S. S. Brooklyn (any other designation than "ship" or "steamer" to be spelled, as U. S. monitor Nantucket)— or in parentheses, footnotes, cut-in notes, side notes, or tables when with the name of an organization of the Army or Navy, a Department, bureau, commission, etc., of the United States Government.

TABULAR WORK.

[See also ABBREVIATIONS, p. 18.]

Headings and footnotes to be solid when table is solid, and leaded when table is en-quadded.

ABBREVIATIONS (see also CHRISTIAN NAMES, p. 18; MONTHS, p. 20)

Units of quantity to the right of reading columns (lower-cased) and over figure columns (capitalized) will be spelled where possible. Where the space available demands a contraction, use the following forms: dolls., dwt., galls., lbs., oz. (for ounce or ounces), bbls., cwt., yds., ft., in. (for inch or inches), doz., bush., M, sq. feet, M feet, cub. (for cubic), kilo (for kilogram).

Where over figure columns, use the forms a. m. for antemeridian; Ft. in. for feet and inches; h. m. s. for hours, minutes, and seconds; p. m. for postmeridian; and £ s. d. for pounds, shillings, and pence.

In columns of names of persons follow the copy as to abbreviations of given names; but such names as George or William may be abbreviated to save overruns.

Brother, Brothers, or Company where part of a firm name, and Railroad or Railway where preceded by name, are to be abbreviated Bro., Bros., Co., R. R., Rwy.

Use the following forms for numbered streets when abbreviated: 4½ street sw.; R street nw.; 8th street se.; etc.

When so directed by copy preparer, any well-known abbreviation may be used to save an overrun.

Months will be abbreviated when day is given; but in box heads only when so prepared. (See also DATE COLUMNS, p. 23.)

BOX HEADS

Letters are not to be filed where crowding is necessary.

To be solid and the words centered in the box except when the column is 10 ems or more in width and the matter makes 3 lines or more, in which case make a hanging indention. Run-up heads are indented an en space at the beginning of the line and bear off an en space where reaching the rule at the top, and if they make 2 lines, center the second; if 3 lines, make a hanging indention.

The minimum depth to be 3 ems.

To run across wherever practicable; if necessary to run up, reduce to minimum depth. Avoid running up over reading and date columns.

In single heads of 2 lines or more and heads having double or a greater number of boxes bear off an en space above and below; in tables set in quarto or a wider measure, tables set in brevier with nonpareil box heads, and full-quadded tables use an em space above and below.

Where a single box exceeds the depth of a double or triple box place the extra space in the lowermost box.

Where a head is composed of double boxes, or a greater number, the greatest number of lines in the top box will control the depth of all the top boxes; so also in each of the other boxes. Occasionally the top box of a triple box head may be of such depth as to make a better appearance by allowing its bottom rule to align with the bottom rule of the second box.

In boxes containing 2 lines the first line to be the longer where possible, but do not sacrifice good appearance by dividing short words or making 2-letter divisions in wide columns.

In parallel tables where a box head is divided, repeat for each page.

Spell the word "number," referring to quantity or things, in box heads, where possible. Where necessary to abbreviate, or where used in connection with serial figures, use "No."

BRACES

Straight-line braces on en body are to be used, and to go on right of rule where possible.

CENTER, FLUSH, AND SUB HEADS (see also DATE COLUMNS, p. 23)

Use a full blank line above all center heads. Where a parallel dash, runover, etc., in another column furnishes a blank space above the head do not add an extra blank.

Where the center head will clear the reading matter below, and there are leaders, use a line of en quads only; if no leaders below and the center head will clear at least an en space, omit blank, but if it clears less than an en space, use an en-quad line. Otherwise use full blank below.

Use a colon after a flush head and an em dash after each head subordinate thereto. The copy preparer will indicate when to do otherwise.

CONTINUED HEADS

Continued heads over tables must be condensed into one line where possible.

"CONTINUED"

Omit period or colon after a center, flush, or sub head where the word "continued" is used, and always use a 1-em dash between it and the head. If the head is all small caps, use a lower-case "c."

DASHES

Do not carry dashes in reading or date columns.

Parallel dashes will be used in all cases where necessary to cut off from figures following.

DATE COLUMNS

Always abbreviate months in columns cast to 5, 7, or 7½ ems (this latter for inside columns) and bear off from the rule an en space, placing the remaining space between the month and the day; where the year is used put an en comma only between it and the day.

Omit the period at end where a 5 or 7 em column is the last one of the table.

Where the year is centered over dates use a full blank above and no space below.

Where a column is composed of dates only and is cast wider than 7½ ems, spell out months unless otherwise indicated, or where necessary to save overruns.

Where not followed by leaders and consisting of years only and some of the lines have a double year, center each in the column, in the following manner:

1898
1899–1900
1901–2

Date columns are not classed as reading columns.

"DITTO," USE OF

Never use "do." in the first line under a center head or under a line of leaders; but it can be used under a blank space, except as limited.

Only use "do." in reading and date columns.

Capitalize when not preceded by leaders. In the last column of a table do not use leaders with "Do." and capitalize.

In columns less than 6 ems in width use 1½ ems of quads (in addition to en quad used for bearing off) or 2 ems of leaders, as may be required, before the "do." In columns of 6 ems and over, use 2 ems of quads (in addition to en quad used for bearing off) or 2½ ems of leaders.

In first columns, where flush headings are used with indentions under them, proportionate allowance must be made for those indentions, which will generally be indicated by the copy preparer.

Where "do." is used in reading columns under units of quantity, bear off a 2-em leader on right.

DOLLAR MARK

To be placed close to figure, and only repeated under cross rules.

DOUBLE-UP TABLES

Repeat a center, flush, or sub head, adding "continued," if the matter under it breaks. Use an en space only on each side of the parallel rule.

EN-QUADDED TABLES

Use en quads in runovers (copy preparers will give instructions when change is desired); scabbard will not be allowed. Omit en quads above and below dashes, except where rules are used instead of dashes.

Always bear off the longest line of figures at least an en space from rule, where it can be done. Where crowded and only a few figures will touch, close up on the left; if more space be needed, close up on the right. Where necessary to close up on the right in one figure column, do the same with the other figure columns.

Double columns of figures in a single column connected by an en dash, the word "to," or similar connecting word, the en dashes or words to be ranged.

Plus and minus marks, where occurring at left of figures, are to be ranged.

Range all words occurring in figure columns with figures on right; also capitalize and use a thin period.

FOOTNOTES AND REFERENCES

Footnotes to be solid and to have the same abbreviations as are used in the table. In a series of short footnotes range the reference marks on the right and the first letters of the notes.

Italic superior letters are to be used for references unless otherwise indicated by copy preparer.

In figure columns footnote references are to be placed at left; but when figure columns are treated as reading columns place references at right.

Use period between an abbreviation and a reference mark: St. Louis, Mo.[a]_____ _____do.[b]_____

FRACTIONS

Common fractions will be set against rule unless otherwise indicated.

Decimals: Copy preparers will indicate when ciphers and points are to be omitted.

Always align decimal points, except in columns containing mixed numbers having irregular decimals; that is, where one number would have a decimal of one figure, the next four figures, and so on, one representing pounds, the next dollars, and the next a percentage, etc.

ITALICS

Units of quantity, etc., where not in box heads and placed over figure columns to be italics, and to be used only at beginning of a new table or at the head of a continued page, and to drop down on the figures if there is a colon or dash side head; otherwise clear.

Names of vessels and scientific names of genera and species to be roman unless otherwise directed.

LEADERS

Unless specially directed otherwise, continue leaders across entire width of table, except where the last column is a reading column or a 5 or a 7 em date column, in which case omit the leaders from that column. Also omit leaders in a 5 or a 7 em date column where it is the first column of a table.

LEADING FROM TOP OR BOTTOM LINES

Where there is only one reading column, lead from the bottom; if more than one, from the top, omitting leaders in the runover line.

Date columns are not classified as reading columns in connection with leading from top line.

In parallel tables, where the lines are numbered on the outside of each page, lead from the top.

READING COLUMNS (see also EN COMMAS AND PERIODS, p. 28)

Are always to be borne off an en space from rule. Indention from rule means so many ems in addition to the en space used for bearing off.

Where the last word in a leader line runs close to the rule, use an en leader if space permits; if not, use a thin space, but never use a period excepting where a reference mark follows an abbreviation. If a 3-em space will go between the last word and the leader, thin-space so as to get in an en leader.

Numerical expressions will be expressed in figures, even at the beginning of a sentence: 241 days from Dec. 1; trains 3 times a day.

Overruns: Unless otherwise indicated, overruns will be 1 em hanging indention.

Ordinal numbers followed by leaders, also figures having a total in a stub or reading column, are to be ranged on right.

TABLES IN RULES

Copy preparers will give instructions concerning box heads, bearing off from rule, dashes, leaders, etc., for tables inclosed in rules.

LEADER WORK.

To have the same style as tables in the following particulars: "Continued" (the use of); flush and sub heads; indentions; numerical expressions in reading columns; ranging words in figure columns and figures in reading columns; units of quantity at right in reading columns.

Width of figure column to be an en space more than the longest line of figures; but no column less than 2 ems.

When the last column is reading matter run leaders close up.

Names of vessels to be in italics.

Use parallel dashes in figure columns where necessary to cut off from figures following. In leaded leader work omit lead above and below dashes.

DATE COLUMNS

The same style as in tables, except that a thin period and en space is used to separate from item on the right.

DOLLAR MARK

Use only at beginning of each statement and first line of double-up matter or at the head of a continued statement.

FLUSH AND SUB HEADS

Are not to run into figure columns.

UNITS OF QUANTITY

Where a column is composed of a quantity of one kind and it is desired to use a head, it will be in nonpareil roman centered over the figure column. The examples below show the style to be observed where there is a short side head to the left (note the lead under nonpareil head in solid matter):

	Tons.
Pennsylvania Railroad:
Freight carried	221,000
Baltimore and Ohio Railroad:
Freight carried—
In the month of May	150,000

Where there is no side head:

	Tons.
Freight carried by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the month of May	371,500

USE OF FIGURES.

It is impossible to give definite rules that will govern in all cases as to what should go in figures and what should be spelled out. General rules which will serve as a guide follow.

Always spell out figures beginning a sentence, except in tables, ordinal numbers at the beginning of paragraphs or sentences in certain cases, and complex numbers beginning questions or answers in testimony.

Ordinal numbers: 1. The earth is round. (2) "The sun do move." But when copy indicates "1st," etc., spell: First. The moon is not green cheese.

In testimony:

Q. In what year was that?—A. 1876.
Q. 1876?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. What was the amount involved?—A. $101.50.
Q. How much was the sum?—A. Five (or fifteen, or sixty-seven) dollars.

Amounts or numbers larger than 1,000, if spelled, are expressed thus: One thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars (not eighteen hundred and fifty dollars), one thousand two hundred tons (not twelve hundred tons).

Spell out numbers mentioned casually, or by way of illustration, or in connection with serious and dignified subjects:

In nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of every thousand.
Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute.
The twelve Apostles.
The three Graces.
The nine Muses.
The seven wise men of Greece.

AGE

My age is 52 years and 6 months; a boy 6 years old; 3-year-old colt; 3-months-old child; wine 8 years old (but a boy about six years old; wine four or five years old—where indefinite and isolated, spell out).

BONDS OR STOCKS

Gold is 109; Metropolitan Railroad, 109; 5-20 bonds; 10-40 bonds; 7.30 bonds. 3.65 bonds; 4½ per cent bonds; 3 per cent bonds; 3½ percents; 4 percents. Where the word "bonds" does not follow the designating expression, spell out, as five-twenties, ten-forties, three-sixty-fives, four-and-a-halfs, threes, etc.

COMPOUNDS (see also FRACTIONS and MONEY, p. 27)

Use figures for such compound terms as a ¾-inch board, a ½-pound weight, a 25-story building (where the figure does not make two words, and is isolated, spell, as a two-story house); a 25-cent piece, a 5-franc piece; a 2-foot rule, 10-horsepower engine, 25-candlepower lamp, 16-hundredweight load, etc.

Spell out such terms as a two-dollar bill, etc., except where the figure makes two words, as a $25 suit of clothes.

DATES

June 29, A. D. 1882; December 6, 1846; the 1st of January, 1883; June 12; the 5th instant; the 20th day of March; the 1st (day) of the month; the last of April or the first of May; July 4, 1776, was the great day which gave to the world the celebrated Declaration of Independence, and now our Fourth of July is something to be remembered by all patriotic Americans; 4th of July claims.

Spell such expressions as the early seventies, it occurred in the eighties.

When two consecutive years are intended, set: 1875–76, 1801–2, except 1900–1901; when more than two consecutive years are intended: 1875–1879, 1895–1904; when two or more distinct years are intended: 1894, 1895; 1873, 1876; 1888, 1891, 1894.

DECIMALS (see also FRACTIONS, pp. 24, 27)

Supply cipher when there is no unit, as 0.25; 20 ounces of silver, 0.900 fine; except where referring to caliber of small arms, as .30 caliber, .45-caliber Springfield rifle, distinguishing, however, where used to describe the length of a gun, as a 6-inch rapid-fire rifle, 50 calibers.

DEFINITE ENUMERATIONS

Use figures for all definite enumerations of weights and measures, and such as the following: There were 20 males and 25 females, 45 in all; 6 horses, 5 cows, 26 head of sheep; 25 bulletins, containing 352 pages; but when complicated spell, as twenty-five 6-inch guns, five 24-pounders, two ¾-inch boards, five 5-cent pieces. In the latter forms figures should not be used for both expressions.

When the nature of the matter is not statistical, spell out isolated numbers less than 10; also when referred to indefinitely, as between two and three hundred horses, thirty or forty pages, forty-odd people, etc.

DEGREES, ETC.

Longitude 77° 04′ 06″ E., latitude 49° 26′ 14″ N.; a polariscopic test of 85°; 45.5° below zero; an angle of 57°; 4°, 8° (quarto and octavo), f°; 3′ 5″ (3 feet 5 inches); 25′.5 or 25.5′ as written.

DIMENSIONS

Use the form 8 by 12 inches; but 8×12 inches or 8×12″ (as indicated in copy) may be used in leader work, tables, or "fol."

FRACTIONS (see also COMPOUNDS and DECIMALS, p. 26)

Spell out a common fraction where isolated, as one one-hundredth, two one hundred and twenty-sixths; ¼ when marked to be spelled, one-fourth; a board three-fourths inch thick (using singular form for unit of measurement, etc., when less than one).

Use figures for decimals, as iron 0.625 inch thick; it cost $0.3345 per pound; scrap, at 0.75 cent per pound.

MONEY (see also COMPOUNDS, p. 26)

At $3 per 200 pounds; 75 cents apiece; 2.5 francs per yard; $0.7525 per ounce.

Spell out when referred to in a general way, as one or two millions, "I would not contribute one dollar to such a purpose;" but this is not to be construed as meaning round numbers.

PERCENTAGE

12 per cent, 25.5 per cent; but one-half of 1 per cent. Never use hyphen in such expressions as 12 per cent interest, etc.

POPULATION

The population of Chicago is 1,800,000, of whom 250,000 are voters; a hamlet of 18 persons. But when the nature of the matter is not statistical, spell out numbers under 10; or where referred to indefinitely, as the population is forty or fifty thousand; there were thirty-five or forty persons in the town.

SCRIPTURAL TEXTS

Genesis xv, 24; II Samuel viii, 9–13; St. Matthew vii, 5.

SERIAL NUMBERS

Section 1234, No. 54321; 1536 Ninth street NW.; paragraph 246, page 15, volume 6 (or Volume VI, as written); clerk of class 4; H. R. 12345, Report No. 4321, Document No. 123; Bulletin 46; and all such terms.

Where spelled out use the form section twelve hundred and thirty-four; but when even multiples of one thousand occur, use the word "thousand," as section two thousand and four (not twenty hundred and four); paragraph seven thousand and sixty-nine.

Spell out when used as a name, as One hundred and fifty-fifth street, Four-and-a-half street, One hundred and ninth Indiana Regiment, Fourth Ward, etc. (See also NUMBERS USED AS NAMES, p. 14.)

SPECIFIC GRAVITY

Use the period, as 1.100, 0.980.

SUPERIORS AND INFERIORS

Use superiors with reference letters, as A^1, A^2, or a^1, a^2, etc. Use inferiors in chemical formulas, as Al_2O_3, and always close up, using no spaces.

TIME

4.30 p. m. (use period to separate hours and minutes); 4 o'clock and 30 minutes p. m.; half-past 4. In scientific work, $4^h\ 30^m$; $4^h.5$ or 4.5^h as indicated.

Spell out thirty days' notice; he worked fifty years as a journeyman; it lasted three hours and twenty minutes, etc.

VOTES, BALLOTS, ETC.

75 votes; 50 ballots; 300 voters; 167 Democrats; 14 majority. But spell out when referred to indefinitely, as twenty or twenty-five votes.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ACCENTS

Omit the dieresis in such words as aerate, cooperation, preemption, reexamine, zoology, etc.

Use accents in foreign names and words, unless otherwise directed.

The following is a partial list of words in common use in which accented letters occur:

attaché	en arrière	façade	râle
chargé d'affaires	en échelon	matériel	régime
confrère	en règle	mêlée	résumé
coup d'état	entrée	née	rôle
coup de grâce	entrepôt	procès verbal	rôle d'équipage
débris	exposé	protégé	señor

CENTER LINES

Copy preparers will take full responsibility for uniformity in center lines, and no changes are to be made without their consent.

Avoid, where possible, the division of words in center lines making 2 lines only.

Use an en space between words in small-cap and cap lines, and two 3-em spaces where an extended face is used.

Cap, small-cap, and cap-and-small-cap center lines are to be separated from text by a slug one size less than type used for the center line.

CITATIONS AND CREDITS

In text, citations and credits are to be sentences and in parentheses where occurring at end of a sentence, except where page only is given, in which case use lower-case letter and place period outside. Credits where centered to be in brackets.

See also various headings under ABBREVIATIONS, page 18.

Note the following forms: (18 [not 18th] Statutes at Large, p. 25; IV [not IVth] William and Mary, p. 46; 126 [not 126th] United States Reports.)

DIVISIONS

Frequent divisions of words are undesirable, but do not avoid them entirely at the expense of uniform spacing.

Do not divide compound words except at the compounding hyphen in any but extreme cases.

Divisions at the ends of three adjacent lines will not be passed by readers except in extreme cases or in narrow measure.

Divisions on syllables of two letters should be made but rarely.

Never divide the last word of a paragraph if it can be avoided; overrun if necessary. The last line of a paragraph should contain at least a four-letter word.

Avoid, by overrunning, the use of a dash at the beginning of a line.

ELLIPSIS, MARKS OF

In document measure, "line of stars" means 7 asterisks indented 2 ems at each end of the line, dividing the remaining space evenly between the asterisks; but in case two or more sizes of type are used on a page indent long primer 2 ems, brevier 2½ ems, and nonpareil 3½ ems.

In other than document measure the copy preparers will indicate the number of asterisks and the indention, which latter will be uniform in all cases. If 3 asterisks are used, separate by an em space; if periods are used instead of asterisks, separate by en spaces.

EN COMMAS AND PERIODS

Compositors are to get instructions from foreman when to use en commas and periods in indexes and reading columns of tables. They are only to be used in matter set solid.

FOOTNOTES

Italic superior letters will be used for references, unless otherwise indicated.

Use 2 leads above and below the rule; and two leads to separate from tabular matter.

See also various headings under ABBREVIATIONS, page 18; FOOTNOTES AND REFERENCES, page 24.

FORMS, SHAPES, ETC.

In illustrating certain forms or shapes, as T rails, etc., use caps of case 239 in long-primer text, case 238 in brevier, and case 237 in nonpareil; but for the expression I beam use cap of case 9 in long primer, case 8 in brevier, and case 7 in nonpareil. Use a roman cap letter for X ray.

INDEXES

In indexes where leaders are used and the page folios overrun, retain only the first folio number in the leader line; but where necessary to save an overrun, figures may be run back to within an em leader of the words. When the folios overrunning make two or more lines, indent evenly not less than 7 ems on the left in full measure and 3½ ems in half measure (but where there are clearances indent folios 2 ems more than the matter above or below it), the folios in excess of even-length lines to be worked into the leader line. When the figures extend back into the leader line, use an en quad between the leaders and the first figure.

LEADS AND SLUGS

When extracts, etc., are set in smaller type, separate by using two leads in solid matter and three leads in leaded matter. Where, however, solid extracts occur in leaded matter, use two leads only. Before signatures and under date lines in leaded matter use one lead only.

Where slugs are called for specially, use a slug of same body as type.

PLURALS

Use the following form: 2 pairs of shoes (not 2 pair of shoes), etc.

POSSESSIVES, AND APOSTROPHE

Names ending in "s" add apostrophe and "s," as Jones's. Anderson & Co.'s warehouse.

Do not use the possessive form in such expressions as day labor, quartermaster stores, State prison, States rights (referring to the principle).

Use the singular form for such expressions as printer's ink, 125 miner's inches.

PUNCTUATION

Observe the following examples of punctuation:

George G. Greene, being sworn and examined, on oath deposes and says:
Isaac Fuller, sworn, and testified as follows:
P. L. Rodier, sworn and examined.
Colonel Seventh Cavalry.
Captain, Seventh Cavalry.

5 feet 6 inches; 2 pounds 6 ounces; 12 chains 4 rods 6 links; but where "and" is used, 3 miles, 4 chains, and 6 links.

QUOTATION MARKS (see also TITLES OF BOOKS, ETC., p. 15)

Titles of articles in books, magazines, and newspapers where referred to in text to be quoted, and capitalize first word only, unless a proper word; place all points, and 3 stars when used at end of quoted matter, inside the quotation marks, except in "fol. lit."

Range words in poetry (according to indention), allowing quotation marks to clear.

REFERENCES

Where letters are used for references in explaining diagrams, figures, etc., use italics for lower-case references and roman for caps, not quoted: The bolt a; a pinion, B; angle ab; line CD; points a, b, c.

SIDE AND CUT-IN NOTES

Are to be treated the same as text paragraphs; that is, first line indented 1 em and the others flush.

Allow 12 ems for cut-in notes unless otherwise instructed, and bear off at least an em blank of the body of the note above and below, and an em space on the inside.

SPACING

The spacing of matter must be governed by the leading.

Solid matter should be spaced with 3-em spaces, and when about to divide a word prefer to take in.

Leaded matter should also be spaced with 3-em spaces, but when about to divide a word prefer to drive over.

In double-leaded matter en quads should be used and divisions driven over.

Avoid, if possible, the very thin or very wide spacing of the first line of a paragraph.

All lines of composition must be justified so tightly that they will stand unsupported in the stick.

Observe in spacing the various formations of letters. There should be less space between final "y" and initial "w," for instance, than between final "d" and initial "h;" less between final "o" and initial "c" than between final "f" and initial "b." When a little extra spacing is necessary, never place it between a comma and the first letter of succeeding word. The spacing between capital letters in headings should also be governed by letter formation.

Do not do all the spacing at either the right or left of the line, but distribute it in conformity with the foregoing suggestion. The appearance of a page as a whole depends very much upon the care shown in spacing.

Always keep together, at the beginning or end of a line, such abbreviations as U. S. N.; D. C.; N. Y.; N. J.; M. D., etc. The contractions esq., sr., and jr. should always be in the same line with the name they follow.

In tables of contents, etc., where the word chapter, figure, or plate is used in the first line before numerals in column ("chapter," etc., being cleared in following lines), put an en space between the word and numeral in the first line and range the periods after the numerals.

Enacting and resolving clauses: In document measure space the first line so as to conform to the following examples:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America
Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America

In law measure, space as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That ADDRESSES, SIGNATURES, AND DATE LINES.

[See also FOLLOW—FOL. LIT., p. 33.]

Capitalize the principal words in address and signature lines.

Abbreviations may be used when necessary to the good appearance of a line.

SPACING: Use en quads between caps and small caps, except after points use a 3-em space.

Omit leads where space is clear between date line and address, signature and text, or signature and address.

Where end of line is 3 ems or more from dash, omit slug; between 1 and 3 ems, use 2 leads; within 1 em or less, use slug.

ESQ., JR., AND SR.: In text, all lower-case; in a cap-and-small-cap address or signature, Esq., Jr., Sr.; where address or signature is all caps, ESQ., JR., SR.

ADDRESSES.

The name of a person, a firm, or the title of an official in an address to be at left of page, in caps and small caps, the title or direction following in italics (except "U. S. Army" or "U. S. Navy" immediately following in same line will be roman). Set first line flush where at beginning of a letter or paper; indent 1 em where placed at end. Copy preparers will indicate place of address.

A general address to be all italics.

The examples following show some of the forms to be observed:

[Where italic line is longer than name line indent italic line 2 ems more than name line. Ordinarily where both lines are about same length or the italic line is the shorter, place the italic line so that its center will be at the end of the name line. Where address does not make over half a line, and does not touch on date or signature, it can be run in in one line. Compositors will have to use their judgment as to this.]

SIGNATURES.

Signatures to be at right of page (except witnesses to a signature, which will be at left, as shown in example) in caps and small caps, indented 1, 3, and 5 ems, according to the number of lines, title or direction following to be as in addresses. Make 2 lines where signature and title or direction together make more than half a line.

Mr., Mrs., or any title preceding a signature set in caps to be caps and small caps.

DATE LINES.

A date at beginning of letter or paper is to be placed at right of page, indented 1, 3, and 5 ems, according to the number of lines.

Copy preparers will indicate as nearly as they can how they are to be broken, and caps, small caps, and italics.

FOLLOW—FOL. LIT.

Copy marked "fol." means to follow figures, italics, abbreviations, idiomatic words and expressions, and &c. or etc., but not capitalization or punctuation. Anything else to be followed will be indicated on the copy or written instructions furnished. All orthography in "fol." matter is good that has the sanction of any dictionary.

Copy marked "fol. lit." means to follow abbreviations, accents, capitalization, figures, italics, paragraphs, punctuation, signs, spelling, syntax, and compounding of words.

USE OF ITALICS.

Names of vessels should be set in italic, except in tables and footnotes to same, indexes, lists set in columns, and Supreme Court work.

The words "see," "see also," etc., to be in italic in indexes only.

Italics will not be followed in general work, either for foreign words or to denote emphasis, unless special instructions to that effect are given.

Scientific names of genera and species are to be in italics; names of classes, orders, families, etc., in roman.

GENERAL TESTIMONY.

[See also PUNCTUATION, p. 29.]

Contract the first Q. and A., as well as the following ones.

Make one paragraph of question and answer, connecting the question and its answer by an em dash; but where there is a choke, use 2-em dash only:

Q. Did you see——A. No, sir.

Where the answer is not introduced by the regular "A.," "Ans.," or "Answer," or where the name or title of a participant is used, make a new paragraph.

The following examples illustrate the use of brackets, colons, and parentheses:

The CHAIRMAN (to Mr. Smith).
Mr. KELLEY (to the chairman).
The WITNESS. He did it that way [indicating].

Q. (By Mr. SMITH.) Do you know these men [handing witness a list]?
(Objected to.)
A. (After examining list.) Yes; I do.

Q. (Continuing.)—A. (Reads:)
Question (continuing).—Answer (reads):
A. (Interrupting.)
Answer (interrupting).
(Counsel objects to its admission.)
□□□By the Commissioner:

Observe punctuation in the following paragraph:

The defendant, George Brown, stated to the court, etc.

COURT STYLE.

COURT OF CLAIMS OPINIONS, BRIEFS, AND DECISIONS.

Copy preparers are instructed to simplify style as much as possible, and give preference to copy generally in the use of abbreviations, figures, and other important matters. Therefore compositors and proof readers will carefully observe preparation, and where none is indicated will follow copy.

The following examples and directions will, however, be observed:

"United States" to be used in the plural number.

Spell out "Question" and "Answer" and make separate paragraphs. When questions are numbered, the number to precede the question: 30. Question.

The Legal Tender cases.

In Clarke's case the court say.

In the case of Clarke.

In Roe v. Doe the court ruled.

The United States v. 12 Diamond Rings.

The United States v. Forty Hogsheads of Tobacco.

(Ex parte Robinson, 19 Wall., 304.)

Bowman Act (22 Stat. L., ch. 4, § [or sec.] 4, p. 50).

Act 5th August, 1882 (Supp. Rev. Stat., 284; Stat. L., 28).

Make sentences of single citations occurring at conclusion of sentences or paragraphs, except "p." or "pp.," which will be close up and period outside of parenthesis. Where citations follow clauses, the final citation, if occurring at the end of the sentence, will necessarily be closed up. In citations of single lines, use period at end of each line. Where run in, use semicolons.

Observe style of the following: The said paper was marked "Defendant's Exhibit No. 4." The defendant's Exhibit No. 4 was thereupon placed on file. (See also PUNCTUATION p. 29.)

SUPREME COURT RECORDS.

[See also FOLLOW—FOL. LIT., p. 33.]

Make paragraphs of answers in Q. and A. matter.

The folio number is to appear in the same line as the first word of the folio, flush, and in a cut-in 3 ems square, except where there is white space above or below; indentions for paragraphs, etc., to be in addition to the 3-em cut-in.

Excepting italics (which stand for errors only), capitalization, and punctuation, follow copy literally when it is manuscript. In typewritten records manifest errors of the typewriter are to be corrected, such, for instance, as where a letter has been struck over another or where a space in a word shows that a letter was intended to appear but was not struck hard enough to make an impression; but if a good word is used in the wrong place—as, "in" for "on," "boot" for "boat," etc.—do not change or use italics. Words having the sanction of any dictionary are considered good.

Use italic letters to indicate errors in orthography, except in names of persons and firms and geographic names, words in foreign languages that are not law terms, and errors in syntax. Errors in words set in italics will be indicated by roman letters.

Doublets will be indicated by italicizing the repeated portion.

Names of vessels to be set in roman, quoted.

Use apostrophe to indicate the omission of one or more letters in a word; but in well-established abbreviations omit apostrophe and use period.

Use a 3-em quad to indicate the omission of one or more words.

Capitalize the word "The" only in such cases as the following: the said The B. & O. R. R. Co.; The Sun v. The Globe; The City of Washington v. The B. & O. R. R. Co.; the defendant The Davies County Bank.

BILL STYLE.

Unless special directions are given—sometimes necessary in particular cases—the following rules govern the printing of bills:

TYPE

Bills are always set in English type, full-slugged.

A new bill is always all roman, italic being used only for the enacting clause and the word "Provided."

SIDE FOLIOS

The direction "Allow for two figures" means that TWO 1-EM quads (not one 2-em quad) are to be used in allowing for side folios at left of text. "Allow for three figures" means indent two 1-em quads and one en quad.

Always supply the word "That" immediately following the section number (except when quoting sections of Revised Statutes) and after the word "Provided" of a proviso.

ENGROSSED AND ENROLLED BILLS

A bill is said to be engrossed when it has passed one House of Congress; to be enrolled when final action has been taken in both Houses.

Follow literally in engrossed and enrolled bills. This applies to the title of the bill on the filing or indorsement as well as to the text, but not to the caption of engrossed amendments. Read twice, fol. lit.

HEADS AND INDORSEMENTS

The "indorsement" on a bill is the form printed on the back for convenience of reference when folded. "Bill style" prevails on indorsements. As a bill progresses new "actions" appear, which should be set in the same style as the "actions" that precede. (See examples of the heading and indorsement of a new bill in each House given on pp. 37, 38.)

The name of the introducer of a bill or resolution is carried under the title in the indorsement, in long primer caps and small caps, between parallel rules, in both Houses, through each printing until bill or resolution passes one House. When the title of a bill on the indorsement makes more than two lines, indent the runovers 1½ ems; center the title when it makes but one or two lines. On the face of the bill where a title makes more than one line, set the first line to full measure, centering the runover if there be two lines in the title; if more than two lines, indent the runovers 2 ems.

Titles for HOUSE BILLS are taken from the INDORSEMENT of copy; for SENATE BILLS from the FACE of copy. When in doubt, consult with the foreman.

Preambles are set full measure, the first line of each "whereas" being flush and the runovers indented 2 ems. Where an agreement or treaty is part of a preamble, follow literally, indenting the paragraphs 4 ems and runovers 2 ems, full measure.

Titles and preambles following the head of a bill are always half-slugged.

Set "[Calendar No., —" on both face and indorsement of bills which have reached the Senate Calendar, in each case at the upper right-hand corner.

Set "Report No." on both face and indorsement of reported bills in both Houses, centering under the number of the bill.

[It is impracticable to give illustrations of the minutiæ of headings and indorsements of bills in all their stages. Samples and information can always be had upon inquiry at the foreman's desk. Compositors and others must familiarize themselves with the forms called for by the clerks' notes on copy.]

AMENDMENTS

"Line type" and italic are used only to show amendments. When it is proposed to strike out certain portions in a bill that is "reported with amendments," such portions will be set in "line type," and matter proposed to be inserted will be set in italics.

When it is proposed to strike out and insert, always let the italics FOLLOW the line type.

Do not complicate amendments. When one amendment can be made to cover the sense, as in the complete changing of a sum of money, so set it, rather than divide into two or more short amendments.

AMENDMENTS—Continued.

Do not use "line type" or italics to show amendments in the title of a bill; but allow the original title to stand in its place, and put the proposed title with the introductory words "Amend the title so as to read:" at the end of the bill in a half-slugged paragraph, all roman. Example:

Amend the title so as to read: "A bill granting an increase of pension to John Smith."

Do not put a part of a word in italics or "line type." At times the copy will indicate a letter only added to or taken from a word, or an amount like "twenty-five" will be changed to "twenty" by striking out the "five." In such cases use "line type" for the original word and put the proposed word in italics.

Proposed Senate amendments are printed in bill form, all roman.

When it is proposed in the Senate to make several short amendments, the caption should read as follows:

AMENDMENTS

Intended to be proposed by Mr. HOAR to the bill (H. R. 4864) to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government, and for other purposes, viz:

1 In line 24, page 19, strike out the words "per centum ad valorem" and insert the words
2 "cents per pound;" in line 16, page 25, strike out the word "shall;" and in line 12, page 34,
3 after the word "and," insert the word "any."

When a proposed amendment in the Senate is expressed by one or more full paragraphs, the caption should read:

AMENDMENT

Intended to be proposed by Mr. GORMAN to the bill (H. R. 2476) entitled "An Act to establish a fish-hatching station at Port Tobacco, Maryland," viz: After the word "Maryland," in line 14, section 2, insert the following:

1 To enable the United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries to carry out the provisions
2 of this Act there is hereby appropriated the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars.

REPORTED BILLS

Observe the difference in form of action taken on Senate and House bills reported with amendments:

House.—

DECEMBER 12, 1897.

Reported with amendments, committed to Committee of the Whole House, and ordered to be printed.

[Omit the part struck through and insert the part printed in italics.]

Senate.—

DECEMBER 13, 1897.

Reported by Mr. HARRIS, with an amendment.

[Omit the part struck through and insert the part printed in italics.]

[The wording varies with the necessities of the case, but the style remains the same.]

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Spell out everything, except "Mr.," "Mrs.," and classification of vessels, as "A 1."

Make the contractions "&c." and "etc." read "and so forth," and "viz" read "namely."

When, in the use of figures, the comma is used in ordinary work to show notation, in bills thousands and hundreds are spelled; as, for 1,750, make it "one thousand seven hundred and fifty."

In serial numbers, or where the comma is not used in general work, spell by hundreds all numbers less than 10000; as, for 2742, make it "twenty-seven hundred and forty-two;" but in serial numbers where even multiples of one thousand occur, use the word "thousand," as "section two thousand and four," "paragraph seven thousand and sixty-nine" (not "twenty hundred and four" or "seventy hundred and sixty-nine").

Years and dates are expressed thus: June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

When the expression usually indicated by "No." occurs, use the word "numbered." Observe, in this connection, the capitalization for kindred expressions: House Executive Document Numbered One hundred and twenty-six.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS—Continued.

References to the Revised Statutes, Statutes at Large, court reports, etc., are expressed thus: Revised Statutes, page two hundred and forty-two; Twelfth Statutes, page eleven hundred and sixteen; Tenth Court of Claims Reports, page ten.

Capitalize the word "act" wherever it occurs as a synonym for "bill" or "law."

The indorsement on a printed bill must always fall on an even page.

Seven lines of text may be worked in with the indorsement.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENROLLED BILLS

Set in quarto measure, paragraphs indented 2 ems.

Lead with 3-to-pica leads. When center heads occur use a full pica slug above and below.

Set entirely in roman type, except the enacting clause and "Provided," which go in italic.

Avoid divisions of words and space evenly. Two-letter divisions must not be made.

Place the bill number (using the forms "S. 146," "H. R. 4864") in 14-point Woodward, at the upper left-hand corner.

JOURNAL STYLE.

The Journals are set in brevier, solid, Record measure, and as a rule Record style prevails.

Use contractions for States and Territories (see STATES AND TERRITORIES, pp. 20, 21) after names of forts, barracks, arsenals, navy-yards, naval stations, post-offices, counties, military or Indian reservations, and Indian agencies.

Omit comma between name of Senator or Representative and State, thus: Mr. Jones of Arkansas.

Use one lead only on either side of small-cap heads.

HOUSE.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1903

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Bennett, its Secretary, announced that the Senate had passed a bill entitled:

S. 2905. An act for the relief of John M. Smith.

It also announced that the Senate had passed bills of the following titles, in which the concurrence of the House was requested:

S. 2000. An act for the relief of James Robinson; and

S. 2001. An act granting a pension to Sam Jones.

It further announced that the Senate had passed, without amendment, the bill (H. R. 10241) to amend "An act making appropriations for rivers and harbors, and for other purposes," approved July 4, 1894.

The committees were called for reports;

When,

Bills were reported, the reports thereon ordered to be printed, and referred to the Calendars as follows:

By Mr. Black of Illinois, from the Committee on Military Affairs, the bill (S. 527) entitled an act to construct a road to the national cemetery at Dover, Tenn.—to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union.

The amendments recommended by the Committee of the Whole were then agreed to; and as amended the bill was ordered to be engrossed, was read a third time, and passed.

The Speaker laid before the House the bill entitled:

S. 1262. An act for the relief of Paul McCormick;

Which was referred to the Committee on Claims.

By unanimous consent leave was granted Mr. Jones to file the views of the minority.

The Speaker pro tempore laid before the House the bill—with amendments of the Senate thereto—entitled:

H. R. 3458. An act extending the time for final proof on land claims under the public land laws.

On motion of Mr. Sweet, the amendments were concurred in.

Mr. Pearson, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, reported that the committee had examined and found truly enrolled bills of the following titles; which were thereupon signed by the Speaker, to wit:

H. R. 868. An act for the relief of John Smith;

S. 1896. An act for the relief of Mrs. Lucinda Brown; and

H. R. 3858. An act to pension John Jones.

By Mr. Holman:

Whereas it appears by an act passed June 4, 1894, the sum of $10,000 was appropriated to enable the Secretary of War, etc.; and

Whereas it is alleged that trouble exists, etc.;

Resolved, That the Committee on Military Affairs be authorized to settle the difficulty—to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The Committee on Indian Affairs was called;

When,

On motion of Mr. Lynch (on behalf of said committee), the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H. R. 6557) providing for opening the Uintah Indian Reservation in Utah; and after some time spent therein, the Speaker resumed the chair, and Mr. Dockery reported that the committee having had under consideration the said bill (H. R. 6557) had come to no resolution thereon;

When the morning hour expired.

The question being on agreeing to the second resolution, to wit:

Resolved, That John J. O'Neill was not legally elected and is not entitled to a seat in this House;

And being put,

Will the House agree thereto?

It was decided in the negative,

Yeas	23

After further debate,

The Speaker appointed Messrs. Bailey and Ray of New York tellers.

The question being put,

Shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time?

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the members present,

There appeared,

The Speaker laid before the House the following joint resolution of the Senate:

S. R. 91. A joint resolution providing for printing a digest of the laws relating to compensation of officials in United States courts;

Which was referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Allen suggested that the House should take a recess, under Rule 26.

And then, in pursuance of Rule 26, the House took a recess until 8 p. m.

A message from the President of the United States, by Mr. Crook, one of his secretaries, announced that the President had approved and signed bills and a joint resolution of the following titles:

On June 29, 1894:

H. R. 4701. An act to incorporate the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias; and

H. R. 274. An act to authorize the city of Hyattsville, Md., to construct a wagon bridge.

On July 6, 1894:

H. J. Res. 196. Joint resolution to provide temporarily for the expenditures of the Government.

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses to the bill (H. R. 6518) making appropriations for rivers and harbors do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 27, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: Strike out all the matter preceding and insert on page 77, after line 7, the following as a new item:

Baltimore Harbor, Maryland: To widen the ship channel to one thousand feet, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-nine dollars and fifty-one cents.

And the Senate agree to the same.

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate numbered 20, and agree to the same with an amendment as follows: Strike out "eight hundred dollars" and insert in lieu thereof the following: three hundred and fifty dollars; and the Senate agree to the same.

Amend section 2 to read as follows:

SEC. 2. For an exhibit by the Government of the United States at the Cotton States International Exposition to be held at Atlanta, Georgia, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-five, one hundred thousand dollars.

And the House agree to the same.

Leave of absence was granted to Mr. Cobb of Alabama and Mr. Black of Illinois, indefinitely; to Mr. Pigott, for two days; to Mr. Bartlett, until Saturday next; to Mr. Benner of Ohio, for one week; and to Mr. Lacey, for four days.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES ON PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Under clause 2 of Rule 13, bills and resolutions of the following titles were severally reported from committees, delivered to the Clerk, and referred to the Calendars therein named as follows:

* * * * * * *

CHANGE OF REFERENCE.

Under clause 2 of Rule 22, committees were discharged from the consideration of bills of the following titles; which were thereupon referred as follows:

NOUNS ENDING IN "O."

We often find errors in the plurals of nouns ending in "o." To avoid this bear in mind the following general rule: If there is a consonant before the final "o" the plural is "es," but if a vowel precedes it the plural is formed by adding only the "s." There are, however, some exceptions to this rule, and they are here given, as follows:

albinos
armadillos
cantos catsos centos didos dominos duodecimos
dynamos embryos gauchos halos inamoratos juntos lassos mementos merinos mestizos octavos octodecimos
pianos
provisos quartos salvos sextos sextodecimos sirroccos
solos
tobaccos
twos tyros virtuosos
zeros

"EI" AND "IE."

Many persons find it difficult or impossible to recollect the relative position of "e" and "i" in such words as "receive," "believe," etc. If they will bear in mind the following rule, it may save them the trouble of referring to a dictionary to determine this point:

When the derivative noun ends in "tion," the verb is spelled with "ei," thus:

conception	conceive
deception	deceive
reception	receive

But when the noun does not end in "tion," the verb is spelled with "ie," as:

belief	believe

An old printer gives the following rule for using "ei" and "ie," viz: Bear in mind the word "lice"—"i" follows "l" and "e" follows "c," thus, li-ce.

Following is a list of the words beginning with "s" and followed by "ei" or "ie," the parts of words in parentheses to be joined to the prefix (in heavy type) as a single word:

seiches
seidlitz
seigneurial
seignior (age, al, alty, y)
seine (er, ing)
seirospore
seismal (mic, mism, mograph, mographic, mogram, mography, mological, mology, mometer, mometric, mometry, moscope, motic) seity
seize (able, er, in, ing, or, ure) siege (work)
sienite (ic)
sienna
Siennese sierra siesta
sieur
sieva

SUGGESTIONS FOR COMPOSITORS, READERS, AND REVISERS.

TYPESETTING.

Compositors are expected to carefully study the rules governing composition. A failure to do this will show plainly in the proof. It must be remembered, however, that all work done in the office is not in accordance with the regular or office style. Special instructions will invariably accompany copy of this kind, and a compositor should ascertain when taking out copy whether it is to be set according to office style; if it is not, he should read instructions carefully and confer fully with the foreman or man at the desk about doubtful questions.

Compositors should take every precaution to prevent the soiling of proof sheets, as it is necessary for the reviser to see clearly every mark on the margin of a proof after it has been corrected.

Do not try to cover up or hide an accident. After a proof is read the first time, if a word or line is pied, or if a "drop out" occurs, or any accident happens to the type, it is the duty of the workman to call attention to it in writing on the latest proof sheet, whether it be a galley revise, page revise, stone revise, press revise, or foundry revise. If a proof sheet be not available or immediately at hand, put the types involved FEET UPPERMOST when returning them to the galley, page, or form. This direction is intended for all who handle type—laborers, compositors, makers-up, imposers, and electrotypers—and will be insisted upon. Accidents will happen, and correctness can be assured only by faithfully following the instructions here given.

READING.

Proofs that are overinked, pale, smeared, or that have margins too narrow for proper marking, or for any reason are not good proofs, must be refused.

When a proof is taken out, the reader should inform himself fully as to the character of the work, whether there are any special instructions or peculiarities concerning it, and get such other information as he may think will assist him; and before beginning to read he should make sure that copy agrees with proof and that the entire proof is legible. It is well to do preparatory work and take a general survey of a proof before beginning to read it.

The style in which correction marks are made on a proof is an element of considerable importance. Straggling, unsymmetrical characters, disconnected marks placed in the margins above or below the lines to which they relate, irregular lines leading from an incorrect letter or word to a correction, large marks, marks made with a blunt pencil, indistinct marks, a frequent use of the eraser to obliterate marks hastily or incorrectly made, are all faults to be avoided. In reading proof of wide tables the reader should take advantage of white space as near as possible to the error and place the correction therein, thus aiding all who have occasion to handle the proof afterwards.

The time to be spent in reading a proof should be governed, in a great measure, by its importance; but speed should never be greater than is consistent with practical correctness.

When an entire "take" or proof seems to have been set uniformly, a reader should never make important changes in indentions of tables or make like corrections which will cause a great deal of work without consulting the foreman or the copy preparer.

When the reader detects inconsistent and erroneous statements, obviously made by the writer through lapse of the memory or slip of the pen, it is his duty to correct. He does so at his peril, however. He must know, not suspect, that they are errors, and be prepared, if called upon, to vindicate the soundness of his correction by recognized authority. If he does not know, he should query.

In work of particular value—historic or scientific publications, books that may be used for reference, etc.—the reader should be on the lookout for faulty construction of sentences, bad metaphors, inconsistent statements, the misuse of words, and defects of similar character. These he should query. The proofs of this class of work always go out, and the author will probably welcome reasonable suggestions; but the reader must not worry himself or the author about the extreme niceties of grammar or suggest pedantic emendations.

Readers will carefully note the instructions to compositors as to spacing, division of words, etc., and never hesitate to mark when work is imperfect.

Readers are enjoined to keep in full sympathy with the copy preparers. They must always consult with the latter before making important changes in proof. The marks of the copy preparer must be given consideration by all. He has probably handled the entire work, and is in a position to know more about its peculiarities than the man who reads but a small portion.

GALLEY-PROOF REVISING.

A reviser should see that all corrections have been properly made in the type, that words or lines have not been transposed by the compositor in making the corrections, and that the rules governing spacing, division of words, and good printing generally have been observed. Compositors have no excuse for the neglect of even spacing, either when setting the type or when making corrections, and the reader or reviser who passes bad spacing will be held in fault.

All queries made by readers must be carefully transferred to the proof to be sent out, which should always be clean and well printed.

Every paragraph containing an alteration in a proof that makes one or more overruns must be reread as first proof. It must be read aloud by copyholder, word for word, to the end of the paragraph, or at least far enough to satisfy the reviser that the proper correction has been made and no new errors have slipped in while the lines were being handled.

PRESS REVISING.

The following rules should be carefully studied:

1. See that galley slips connect before beginning the page or press revise.
2. See that page folios are continuous, that running heads are correct and uniform, and that the proper signature is correctly placed.
3. See that the proof sheets are clean and clear; send for another proof in case they are not.
4. Revise carefully, observing connections between pages, carrying all unanswered queries, and taking care that continued and repeated lines are free from errors.
5. If a revise is badly corrected or is from any cause not reasonably free from error, call for another correction and proof (stating number wanted), and destroy all duplicates.
6. Be on the lookout for "drop outs," doublets, and transpositions, applying the rules laid down for first revisers.
7. Read by copy all running heads, and box heads in continuous tables; see that all leading lines are carried at the top where subordinate matter turns over; that dollar marks and italic captions of columns are properly placed and uniform; that the matter is as compact as circumstances will permit; and that footnotes fall on the page containing the corresponding reference, and are symmetrically arranged.
8. Preserve complete files of all proofs returned to the desk in the ordinary course of business, especially of the final proofs from which a work is sent to the press or foundry.
9. On first page of a signature of a stone or press revise carry the number of copies and kind of paper, with any special directions that may be necessary; and see that the form is properly imposed.
10. Be particular in making the "mark off" on a galley slip when the first page proofs are sent out, cutting the proof sheet and noting upon it the connecting galley slug, the folio of the succeeding page, and the proper signature of the same. Retain the "mark off" and deliver the galley slips with the clean proof to the proof clerk.
11. Always make sure that different sets of proof sheets on any work are correctly marked in series, as "R," "2d R," "3d R," etc., and when a sheet is stamped "Another proof" carry the same designating "R" on the corresponding clean one, and destroy the stamped proof when it has served its purpose.
12. When two or more jobs are imposed in one form, the reviser should separate the parts to verify the imposition. Until familiar with the "fold," however, caution must be exercised in cutting the sheet.
13. Press, stone, and foundry revises are equally important. In the latter especial care must be taken that rules do not lap, that work is not jammed in the "lockup," that damaged letters and "slips" are indicated, and that the matter is ready in all respects to pass severe criticism.
14. Government publications are usually made up in the following order:

Page 1, title; page 2, blank; page 3, table of contents. If ending on an odd-numbered page, then page 4, blank; page 5, letter of transmittal; page 6, blank; page 7, text proper.

In the body of the work new pages will be properly indicated on the proof sheet. Tables of contents, letters of transmittal, lists of illustrations, the text proper of a book, and all matter following half titles (except parallel tables) should begin on a new odd page.

SIGNATURES.

15. All signatures are designated by consecutive numbers—2, 3, 4, etc.—from the first to the last. The distinguishing feature is usually the jacket number, preceding the signature number and connected with it by a 2-em dash. House and Senate documents take the following signature forms:

S. Doc. 13——9	H. Doc. 123——7
S. Doc. 42, pt 3——9	H. Doc. 13, pt 2——5
S. Rep. 13——9	H. Rep. 247——3

DECISIONS OF THE UNITED STATES BOARD ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES.

[NOTE.—This list includes all decisions rendered by the Board. Adopted forms are shown by bold-face type, rejected forms by italics, and revisions of previous decisions by an asterisk (*).

The following pages are printed from the plates used in printing the edition for the Board, and the capitalization and use of some of the abbreviations are not to be regarded as office style.]

Disappointment; cape at mouth of Columbia river, Washington.

NOTE.—On the 6th of July, 1778, Meares, in the ship Nootka, arrived off the cape and found that a "prodigious easterly swell rolled on the shore," and he had soundings in 16 fathoms over a hard, sandy bottom. "After we had rounded the promontory, a large bay, as we had imagined, opened to our view, that bore a very promising appearance and into which we steered, with every encouraging expectation. As we steered into the bay the water shoaled to 9, 8, and 7 fathoms, where breakers were seen right ahead, and from the masthead they were observed to extend across the bay. We therefore hauled out." The name Cape Disappointment was given to the promontory. It was called Cape Hancock by Gray, in 1792. He changed this name to Cape Disappointment upon hearing that Meares had so named it. Cape Disappointment retained by Vancouver, by Belcher in 1839, and by Ex. Ex. in 1841. Duflot de Mofras, 1844, calls it Cape San Roque or Disappointment. It was called Cape Hancock or Disappointment at the first examination of the entrance to the river, in 1850, and the name Hancock, subsequently, in a secondary manner in the Light-House List, but the name Disappointment is that used on the official charts and by all navigators.—Pacific Coast Pilot, 1889, p. 456.

NOTE.—Haiti was the native name of the island when Columbus landed, on December 6, 1492, and called it Espagnola, which was latinized into Hispaniola. The French colony which gained control of a part of the island was called Saint Domingue, and in 1795, when France acquired title to the entire island by treaty with Spain, it was called Saint Domingue; but when the French were driven out and independence declared, in 1804, the aboriginal name Haiti was revived by the negroes. Shortly after this the Spaniards reestablished themselves in the eastern part of the island, retaining the French name modified to Santo Domingo, but in 1821 lost control, and from 1822 to 1843 the whole island was under one government as the Republic of Haiti. In 1844 the eastern portion of the island again asserted its independence of Haiti and established the Dominican Republic, which remains to the present day.

Thus to-day the island of Haiti, which seems to be the proper name, consists of two countries, Haiti on the west end and Santo Domingo on the east end. R. C.
